Monthly Report (March-April, 2018)

Weekly on-campus cleanliness drives were carried out in the land area/ plot earmarked for each Staff in CIWA premises, and also in common areas. In the cleanliness drives in the common areas, such as office premises, farms and approach roads, along with the regular staff, the contractual farm staff also took part actively.

An on-campus training on 'Organic Waste Management for Production of Farm Made Manures' was organized at ICAR-CIWA, Bhubaneswar on 18th April, 2018. The target beneficiaries under the Projects on "Adding Value to Fish: a Potential Livelihood Option for Fisherwomen of Odisha" and "Gender Inclusive Homestead Aquaculture for Enabling Household Fish Consumption and Income" participated in the programme. After the theoretical orientation through lectures and discussion on organic waste management, the participants were taken for field visit for on-site demonstrations. Practical demonstrations were carried out on different methods of organic waste management viz., vermicomposting, preparation of fish silage from fishery wastes and waste decomposing (microbial). The participants were also exposed to hands-on exercises on the three methods of waste management.
